

Please I beg you do not give into Telemarketers! I am at home all day and used to get harrassed non-stop. One time someone told me to try and just push the telephone buttons when they call. What happened when I did this? They called back and said see how this feels and continued to push buttons in my ear. I know this was wrong but they can really be annoying and dont know the meaning of "no thank you".